Overview   Full stack web developer with a preference to REST-style modeling of applications. Started learning programming with BASIC, C and C++, but became more interested in web development using PHP and JavaScript. Later discovered Ruby on Rails and started using it for all new ventures.

I enjoy working in teams and I prefer small companies. I have experience working remotely in a startup. I also work as a freelancer.

Experience   Full Stack Developer, Klika, Sarajevo   Apr 2015 - present

Klika is software development company offering outsourcing and consulting services. I'm working on client projects using Ruby on Rails and JavaScript.
